Focus on the mission: As a management sponsor, consulting champion or project manager of new applications over the years, I have helped organizations with deadlines and budgets to implement productivity solutions and let them continue with their "real jobs" as quickly and painlessly as possible. I have used, applied, managed or championed products, systems and teams.

Use what you have: I enjoy helping people better understand and use the technology and processes they already have in place to improve productivity and reduce costs. Applied Open Source tools offer cost-saving and productivity-enhancing opportunity.

Grow with the flow: I have helped professionals in publishing, education, health care, finance, law and technology in business and personal settings to choose and apply appropriate, new technology, software and hardware -- along with managing the understandings, budgets, policies and procedures that come with them.
